Holiday at the Arboretum, returns November 8 and runs through January 3, featuring The 12 Days of Christmas outdoor exhibit with a dozen 25-foot-tall Victorian gazebos displayed throughout the 66-acre garden. The gazebos are filled with the charming costumed characters, whimsical animals and winter scenes made famous by the beloved Christmas carol. Each gazebo is encased in glass and extravagantly decorated on all sides to provide a dramatic, three-dimensional experience.

This year, The 12 Days of Christmas at Night is enhanced with an added 500,000 holiday lights, illuminating the intricate gazebos, trimming the architecture of the historic homes and lighting the canopies overhead. Live music, special holiday performances, appearances from the North Pole’s favorite residents and holiday sweets and treats make the evening displays a one-of-a-kind, not-to-be-missed family outing.

Dallas Arboretum’s Director of Public Events, Julia Van Fleet, said, “Being able to provide this special offer for people to see the garden at night is a great value.” Van Fleet added, “Guests don’t have to worry about purchasing their tickets so early, because we are offering the ticket exchange policy in case people’s plans change.”
